Aisen who manufactures Multimedia speakers as one of their many products would not only be associating with the song but also be gifting the Walk & Rock range of speakers to "The Dharavi Project" so that their practice sessions run smoothly and encourage more and more kids to explore their talent.

Through this initiative Aisen aims to nurture home-grown talent and help them reach the platform to showcase their potential. Aisen's ideology is to create awareness amongst today's generation, that, energy channelized in the right direction is bound to succeed.

Speaking on the association Mr. Vinit Agarwal - Director, Marketing says, "I was browsing through some Videos online when I saw this very young Talent Practicing Dance on some small Portable Speakers where even the sound or for that beats were not audible. That's when we as a Brand we thought of bringing true meaning to our range of Speakers. Witnessing this troupe has made me run out of words, they are true gems that possess miraculous talent. We hope with this initiative shall amplify their own experience"
